- Earnings per share is at ₹2.18, increasing by 24.57% year-over-year

Management Commentary

The company's business outlook for FY 2026-27 is the strongest it has ever been since its inception. During H1 FY26-27, the company secured a number of marquee assignments across India, Bhutan and South East Asia, and won its largest EPC contract to date as lead partner of a joint venture. The company continues to maintain strong financial discipline and a robust balance sheet, and is excited about the growth opportunities over the next few years. Some specific commentary is as follows:

On Subsidiary Companies

- DMR's foray into geophysical studies, a specialized field of engineering and investigation, through its subsidiary company, DM Consulting Engineers Pvt Ltd, has shown good progress. DM Consulting Engineers registered revenues of ₹109.61 lakhs and profit after tax of ₹14.07 lakhs during H1 FY26-27.
- DMR incorporated DMR Services Private Limited in Thimphu, Bhutan, in June 2026, in which it holds a 70% stake. The subsidiary will provide engineering and technical consultancy services in Bhutan, giving DMR a local presence in one of its most important markets.
- DMR Balaji JV Private Limited, a 51% subsidiary, was incorporated on September 28, 2026 as the joint venture company for executing the EPC package at the Kamlang Small Hydro Electric Project.

On Business Updates

- DMR's deliberate focus on high-quality assignments and clients in Bhutan and South East Asia is translating into wins. Several ongoing assignments, along with new ones in the pipeline, position DMR well for the next few years as the company works to improve its business margins and focus on high-impact assignments.
- DMR's selective pursuit of EPC opportunities in India is gaining momentum. The Kamlang SHEP barrage package is the company's first hydro civil works EPC award and its largest EPC contract to date. The company will draw on its deep experience in engineering and construction management to execute the project, and will continue to evaluate select EPC opportunities.

- DMR continues to make investments into engineering capabilities by hiring and retaining engineering talent of high-quality depth.
